Bio

Tracy Bennett, Ph.D.

Dr. Bennett is a screen safety expert who teaches families how to strengthen relationships AND achieve screen sanity. She is the Founder and CEO of GetKidsInternetSafe (GKIS) and the Author of Screen Time in the Mean Time: A Parenting Guide to Get Kids and Teens Internet Safe.

In her work as a clinical psychologist for over 25 years, she sees the impacts of digital injury and how to treat and prevent it. After being distracted by the loss of her parents, she needed answers for her own kids; shame-free, actionable strategies that work. They weren't out there. Instead, she found speakers focused on scare tactics and extreme no-screen recommendations. Being a mom herself, she knew these approaches led to eye-rolls, conflicts, and a damaged parent-child relationship. Her approach for GKIS is, instead, based on science-based information and outcome-based parenting strategies tested with real families. Her CSUCI research and teaching complement her feet-on-the-ground warm and practical real-life skill set. She consults with experts in technology and education, has served on Facebook's Youth Advisory Team, and was the Global Ambassador of TeenSafe (the first and largest text-monitoring program for parents). Her television and radio appearances, keynotes, blog articles, and online parenting programs make a powerful impact on families.
